FAIRFIELD
arts & convention center

Dear Friends,

After a busy summer of outdoor performances (read about them in The New York Times and Staten Island Live!), we just returned from Fairfield, Iowa with a performance at The Sondheim Center for the Performing Arts (read about it in The Iowa Source!). The community embraced us wholeheartedly. We coached 13 children from Fairfield to perform as "Duncan students" in the show! A great success - photo and video highlights to come!

This fall, we taught master classes at Manhattan College, Rutgers University, University of Iowa, Kansas State University, and held residencies, setting Duncan repertory, at Franklin & Marshall College and Randolph College. We also brought back IDDF Salon Series, with an intimate "process to performance" showing of a re-staging of Dance of the Priestesses/C. W. Gluck (read about it in Oberon's Grove!) along with a screening of archival film footage of Anna Duncan, followed by a wine & cheese reception with the Company. There was a lively Q&A, and guests mingled long after the presentation.

Classes continue through December 20th with our favorite Company dancers teaching while I travel again to Brazil to teach and perform in Salvador, Bahia and Sao Paulo.

Yours in the Dance,
Lori

Belilove in Brazil - Workshop and Performances

December 1-7, there will be a Duncan workshop in Salvador, Bahia with Lori Belilove. As part of the workshop, there will be a Duncan performance Forever Isadora! on December 6 at the Castro Alves Theater with the Escola Contemporanea De Danca, with guest appearance by Lori. Following the week, Lori will travel to Sao Paulo to perform three nights, December 12-14 at the Renee Gumiel Theater at FUNARTE.

Company Performances in NYC, 2015

Mark your calendar and join us for the Company's signature Salon Series, an intimate "process to performance" showing at the IDDF studio in Chelsea, February 12, warming up for Valentine's Day and May 2, celebrating Isadora's birthday with cake and bubbly!
