Join us for the Isadora Duncan Dance Foundation's summer workshops in the great city of New York! Each session is 6 days of dancing and includes Isadora Duncan technique and repertory classes, teacher training*, tunic making, video screening, The Metropolitan Museum of Art visit, and networking.

Dates:

Session 1: June 26 - July 1

Session 2: July 24-29

Location: IDDF Studio in Chelsea, plus other clean and well-lit studios conveniently located in the Upper West Side.

Description:

Classes will be taught by Lori Belilove, the world's leading teacher and performer of the dances of Isadora Duncan, senior members of Lori Belilove & The Isadora Duncan Dance Company, and guest teachers. Students will work to increase their technical and expressive capabilities in a positive and supportive environment. The workshop will provide an in depth immersion into Isadora Duncan technique and repertory.

**For the teacher training component (separate application required for students interested in IDDF Certification) of the workshop we will focus on teaching the Duncan technique to students ages 4-18 and develop lesson plans around nature themes, Greek mythology, and contemporary life that will resonate with today's young dance students. Attention will be paid to selection of music and breakdown of rhythmic structures in dance.*

Students who participate in the entire workshop will receive a Letter of Completion from Lori Belilove, Artistic Director, Isadora Duncan Dance Foundation.
